

HPL Storage Systems Program Software License Agreement, dated _____<sup>1</sup>: APPENDIX A

DESCRIPTION OF HP SOFTWARE<sup>2</sup>

Appendix A Sheet Number: _____

Software package name: Pantheon

Description:

The Pantheon package is an event-driven simulation system designed for performance modeling of I/O systems. It is written in a mixture of C++ and Tcl.

Additional limitations upon publication of results or use:

None.

Dependencies on other SSP packages:

Intel, srlLite, Raphael.

	“PARTICIPANT”	“HP”
Participant name: <sup>3</sup>	_____	Hewlett-Packard Company
Participant address:	_____ _____	1501 Page Mill Road Palo Alto, CA 94304
Authorized signature: <sup>4</sup>	_____	_____ <sup>5</sup>
Printed name:	_____	_____
Date: <sup>6</sup>	_____	_____

---

<sup>1</sup> Reference to the specific Agreement executed between HP and this Participant is REQUIRED.

<sup>2</sup> Use one sheet for each separately-packaged set of software.

<sup>3</sup> Please enter the name of the individual, or the specific unit of the university or company that will be receiving and using the information, for example, “Storage Systems Program, Department of Electrical Engineering, Greenwich State University.”

<sup>4</sup> For Participant, Authorized Signature is that of somebody capable of legally binding Participant to this Agreement. In many universities, this involves the Dean’s office or its equivalent.

<sup>5</sup> For HP, Authorized Signature is that of an HP functional manager.

<sup>6</sup> The date of signature is the date when the parties signed this Appendix. It becomes part of the Agreement as of the effective date of that Agreement.